Geneva hadn't said "little mouse" in fifteen years or longer. When Micky heard this pet name, her throat. Windchaser motor home at the very moment when two loud beeps blare from it. The headlights flash., She couldn't trade those in for standard-issue parts. She hoped only to keep the strong right leg, the two doors remained, both closed. On the right lay the small bedroom assigned to Leilani. Directly. "For Christ's sake, that's TV fiction. She doesn't exist. By this time the capsule had entered the Jersey module and began slowing as it neared the destination Jay had selected. The machine shops and other facilities available for public use were located on the near side of the main production and manufacturing areas, and Jay led the way past administrative offices and along galleries through noisy surroundings that smelled of oil and hot metal to a set of large, steel double-doors. A smaller side door brought them to a check in counter topped by a glass partition behind which the attendant and a watchman were playing cribbage across a scratched and battered metal desk. The attendant stood and shuffled over when Jay and Pernak appeared, and Jay presented a school pass which entitled him to free use of the facilities. The attendant inserted the pass into a terminal, then returned it with a token to be used for drawing tools from the storekeeper inside. .psychologically and physically?and yet she had survived. Leilani's situation was no better but no worse. "Fine." Bernard nodded but caught Jay's eye for a fraction of a second longer than he needed to, and with a trace more seriousness than his tone warranted. If he ever dreamed, he could convince himself that he's in a dream now, that this landscape seems. Major Lesley shook his head slowly and continued to stare ahead with a vacant look in his eyes. "This shouldn't be happening," he murmured. "They're not the enemy. They shouldn't be fighting each other." .interpret a patient's responses. If this had been nuclear-reactor engineering, Micky would already have. ate tofu and canned peaches on a bed of bean sprouts? .news chopper or even a corporate-executive eggbeater with comfortable seating for eight, but huge and. The chest of drawers stood against the wall, on four stubby legs. More than live feet high. Four feet. Celia managed a smile. Sirocco had seen no reason to mention to the troops her part in the Howard Kalens affair and had told them simply that the object of the exercise was to broadcast some new facts which would be enough to put an end to Stern. "Fm not sure what Fm supposed to say," she told Hanlon. "I'll never be able to thank you both enough. I think I'm beginning to see a whole new world of people that I never imagined existed." Jay began speaking earnestly and in a low voice. "My father asked me to find you. It's urgent. One of the people the SDs are looking for is at the house. Stern has arrested the whole of Congress, and we're pretty sure he's going to issue an ultimatum with the Military. If they do the Chironians will take out the whole ship. Pa wants to go with our guy and talk to Kath to see if they can do something, but they need help getting out of Phoenix." The second SUV proceeds a hundred yards farther west, and then turns north. A searchlight flares on. called herself Sinsemilla as long as I've known her." Leilani settled into a hideous orange-and-blue chair. "They could have," Bernard agreed. "But have they? It doesn't add up to the way Stern's acting." and being rude to nuns. unnervingly intense interest. but feminine in a frilly post-Victorian sense, and Micky imagined that it had been packed away in. "Sure." Clem gestured vaguely behind him. "There's a big room back along the corridor that's free and should hold everybody. We could all get some coffee there too. I guess you could use some--you've had a long trip, huh?" looked back just as a pulse of icy light filled that open doorway. The flash from a camera. Gripping the pole in her right hand as if it were a shepherd's staff, she used it to help maintain her balance. The two silent men who had headed toward the auto transport won't be the only searchers prowling the. "You know what I think?" Micky asked. "Judge Fulmire." Lechat frowned and tapped in a code to reconnect. The unit returned a "number unobtainable" mnemonic. He rattled in another code to alert a communications operator. The same thing happened. "The regular. He turned back to find her holding a phial of capsules. She popped one into her mouth and smiled impishly as she offered the phial to Colman. "It's Saturday, why not live it up a little?" He scowled and shook his head. Anita pouted. "They're good. Shrinks say they relieve repressions and allow the consciousness to expand. We should get to know ourselves." A man looms over them? tall, with a glossy black beard, wearing a green cap with the words. full of fresh coffee, ready to hit the road again. rhythmic and crisp, faint at first, then suddenly rhythmic and solid, like the whoosh of a sword cutting air. carnival blaze of blockaded traffic and across a gradually rising wasteland of sand, scrub, shale. "Oh, Christ Warily, Colman brought a hand up to his brow. "Okay. Look, as soon as I can-" Footsteps approaching at the double interrupted and made him look around. It was Sergeant Armley, from the Orderly Room. Noah took deep breaths of the warm night air. On the way to his car? another rustbucket Chevy? he. "Maybe you should try looking at it their way," Colman said. Colman felt something cold deep in his stomach even before his mind had fully registered what Brad had said. "Stern?" he repeated numbly. He licked his lips, which had gone suddenly dry, and looked from one of the SD majors to the other. "You mean he's already in there?" Huddled in the hostile night, he hears himself making miserable sounds. His mother always told him that. Celia smiled over her glass. "Thank you. It's rare to find such appreciation." "Birds are something ladybugs worry about, you know." The camera tilted up, panned right: A silver Jaguar approached through the early twilight. The car. A single lamp glowed. Like a jury of ghosts, ranks of shadows gathered in the room. scaly ringlets under the window. Evil-looking head raised. Alert. Bernard shook his head in a way that said he rejected the suggestion totally. "They wont they're not like that. They just don't think that way." door to let her enter. detectives can't compete with a wronged woman if she's determined, spunky, and has a hard edge." "It came in about fifteen minutes ago," the waiter said. He shook his head sadly. "Bad news. There's been a shooting down there . . . in Franklin somewhere. At least one dead--one of our soldiers, I think. It was at some place called The Two Moons." sight of them reminds the boy how much time has passed since he ate a cold cheeseburger in the. Having been raised for a time on the edge of a desert more. "Used to be. Is it that obvious?" "Sinsemilla? That's a ..." "I know exactly what you mean," Carson said. Driscoll nodded his mute assent also. He wasn't a diddler. She'd told Micky the truth about that. His handsome profile was ideal for stone monuments in a heroic age, though by his actions he had proved. Kath switched on her impish smile again. "That's all I'm prepared to say," she replied. "For now, anyway. I just thought you'd like to hear it." She turned to Jay to change the subject. "Chang told my son Adam about you, and Adam says you ought to drop by sometime, Jay. He lives in Franklin, so it wouldn't be far. Why don't you do that?" Celia nodded. "That evening, as soon as I got up to the ship. I think I must have been hysterical or something. But yes, I told him." fact dozed off in this chair. The only dreamless sleep he ever experienced was the silken repose that. supply of cheap lemon-flavored vodka. "Tell it to Merrick," Fallows said, making an effort –lot to show the disapproval that he felt. Talking that way betrayed a sloppy attitude toward engineering. Even if they had only three weeks to go, there would still be no excuse not to fix a piece of equipment that needed fixing. The risk of catastrophic failure might have been vanishingly small, but it was present. Good practice lay with reducing possibilities like that to zero. He considered himself a competent engineer, and that meant being meticulous. Walters had a habit of being lax about some things--small things, admittedly, but laxness was still laxness. To be ranked equally irked Fallows. "Log change of watch duty, Horace," he said to the grille on the console. "Officer Fallows." "Being naive is no damn excuse." Geneva trembled. She lowered her hands from her face, wringing them. Stanislaw was frowning with concentration at a compad that he was resting against the edge of the table, its miniature display crammed with lines of computer microcode mnemonics. He tapped a string of digits deftly into the touchstud array below the screen, studied the response that appeared, then rattled in a command string. A number appeared low down in a corner. Stanislaw looked up triumphantly at Sirocco. "3.141592653," he announced. "It's pi to ten places." Sirocco snorted, produced a five-dollar bill from his pocket and passed it over. The bet had been that Stanislaw could crash the databank security system and retrieve an item that Sirocco had stored half an hour previously in the public sector under a personal access key. "And exactly what is that supposed to mean?" Stern demanded. "position to see any light that might leak under or around the door." Corporal Swley wasn't saying anything, which was significant because Swley was usually a pretty good judge of what was what. His silence meant that he didn't agree with what was being said. When Swley agreed with something, he said he didn't agree. When he really didn't agree, he said nothing. He never said he agreed with anything. When he had decided that he felt fine after the dietitian discovered the standing order for spinach and fish, the Medical Officer hadn't been able to accuse him of faking anything because Swley had never agreed with anybody that he was sick; all he'd said was that he had stomach cramps. The M.O. had diagnosed that anybody with stomach cramps on his own time had to be sick. Swley hadn't. In fact, Swley had disagreed, which should have been obvious because he hadn't said anything. information than all five human senses combined, so he doesn't nudge her out of the way. Lechat waited for the noise to die away and managed to bring his feelings under control sufficiently to muster a semblance of dignity appropriate to the moment But simplicity and brevity were appropriate too. "I am honored and privileged by this appointment, and I will dedicate myself for the duration of my term to serving the best interests of our people to the best of my ability," he announced, "in accordance with that promise, my first official act is to restore the full powers of Congress as previously –suspended, and my second is to declare the state of emergency ended as of this moment," Another round of applause, this time briefer than before, greeted the statement. "Next, I have two proposals to put to the vote of the assembly," Lechat said. "But before I do so, I feel that the Supreme Military Commander of the Mission might wish to speak." He sat down, looked along the dais toward Borftein, and motioned with his hand an invitation for the general to take it from there. "I told you once already, it's none of your business anymore. Leave me alone. I don't want to talk to you. Just-go away and leave me alone." "Oh, just ask the computers anywhere how to get to Shirley-with-the-red-hair's place---Ci's mother. They'll take care of you." Nevertheless, the possibility that the hunters might be right here is disconcerting. Their nearness makes. "Okay, so you track it all back to the Big Bang," Jay said at last. "Then where do you go?" A hand was trying to shake Colman out of the grave that he had been lying in for a thousand years. "Sarge, wake up," the Voice of Judgment boomed from above, sounding uncannily like Stanislaw. "Hanlon wants you over at the main gate." –which the two leading guards took up positions outside the door to the suite while the one with the suitcases accompanied Celia and the matron inside. The guard carried the cases through, into the bedroom, and laid them open on the bed, then withdrew to station himself in the lounge. While Celia began selecting and packing items from the drawers and closets, the matron went to the door at the back to look into the bathroom, swept her eyes round in a perfunctory check for windows or other exits, and then came away again to assume a blank-faced, postlike stance inside the lounge door, moving only when Celia went though to collect some papers and other items from the desk beyond. Celia returned to the bedroom and put the oddments and papers into a small bag that she had carried herself, after which she finished filling the suitcases. Then, with her heart pounding, she picked up the small bag and went into the bathroom, moving out of sight, but leaving the door open behind her. It was all she could do to prevent herself from crying out when Veronica stepped quietly from the shower and began opening closet doors and taking out bottles while Celia stepped out of her shoes, slipped off her coat, and loosened her wig. There was no time for smiles or reassuring gestures. Veronica put Celia's shoes on her feet and the flight-. In truth, he has less to fear from wild creatures than from his mother's killers. He has no doubt that they. "I would have let her win," said Leilani, "out of courtesy and respect for her advanced age, but before I. Micky kept the vodka under the sweater because she didn't want to see it each time that she opened the. "We're going to have to talk about this, Jay." Bernard's voice was very serious. "I was teasing, really," Murphy said. "With a flyer up overhead, there's no way they'd be likely to get near anybody. But it's customary to go armed when you're not in places like Franklin... just in case." The Chironians traded in respect, Colman was beginning to understand as he listened to the talk around him. They respected knowledge and expertise in every form, and they showed it. Perhaps, he thought to himself, that was how the first generation had sought to compete and to attain identity in their machine-managed environment, where such things as parental status, social standing, wealth, and heritage had had no meaning. And they had preserved that ever since in the way their culture had evolved. "He ought to be given a chance to go and look at it," Borftein agreed with a nod. "What would be the best way to arrange something like that?". They were watching and waiting while the same thing happened with the Mayflower II Mission, he realized. When and how would they move? And, he wondered, when they did, which side would he be on? "Oh, Jay," Jean groaned. "They were probably taking you for a ride to gets laugh out of it. At your age, you should know better." away from the threshold of those unwanted memories, found her breath and voice: "That's not what I was. attempt to add some dark glamour to the image of Ms. Leilani Klonk, flamboyant young mutant
