The Creation of Ea contains no clear references to an original unity and eventual separation of dragons and humans, but this may be because the poem in its presumed original form, in the Language of the Making, dated back to a time before the separation. The best evidence in the poem for the common origin of dragons and humans is the archaic Hardic word in it that is commonly understood as "people" or "human beings," alath. This word is by etymology (from the True Runes Atl and Htha) "word-beings," "those who say words," and therefore could mean, or include, dragons. Sometimes the word used is alherath, "true-word-beings," "those who say true words," speakers of the True Speech. This could mean human wizards, or dragons, or both. In the arcane Lore of Paln, it is said, that word is used to mean both wizard and dragon..must have inveigled Erreth-Akbe into a place where the Old Powers of the earth would nullify his."There are. Where are you from?".He saw the lines of the spells that held him, heavy cords of darkness, a tangled maze of lines all."I think he will not walk in the Grove. Nor on Roke Knoll. On the Knoll, what is, is so,.". "Where am I, donkey?" he said to it. "How do I get to the town I saw?".He could eat only in the cell, where they took his gag off. Bread and onions were what they gave him, with a slop of rancid oil on the bread. Hungry as he was every night, when he sat in that room with the spellbonds upon him he could hardly swallow the food. It tasted of metal, of ash. The nights were long and terrible, for the spells pressed on him, weighed on him, waked him over and over terrified, gasping for breath, and never able to think coherently. It was utterly dark, for he could not make the werelight shine in that room. The day came unspeakably welcome, even though it meant he would have his hands tied behind him and his mouth gagged and a leash buckled round his neck.."I won't go," he said. "Anywhere. Ever.". "Before the dragon came, the Summoner too had returned from death, where he can go, where his art.He helped her stand. He made no spell to protect or hide them. His strength had been used up. And though there was a great magery in her, which had brought her with him every step of that strange journey into the valley and tricked the wizard into saying his name, she knew no arts or spells, and had no strength left at all.."She came to this place at this time," the Namer said. "And to this place, at this time, no one comes by chance. All any of us knows is how it seems to us. There are names behind names, my Lord Healer.".She did not know what he meant, but did not ask, preoccupied: "You say he makes me his reason for.In her bed, in the dark, she lay and thought: He knew the wizard who named me. Or I said my name. Maybe I said it out loud in my sleep. Or somebody told him. But nobody knows it. Nobody ever knew my name but the wizard, and my mother. And they're dead, they're dead... I said it in my sleep....another witch-man in the door her baby would be born dead twice over. Her screaming could be heard.him. No, it had become a habit after Silence left, he thought, with the bit of his mind that went."Well, this boy did learn at last to tame his anger and control his power. And a very great power it was. Whatever art he studied came easy to him, too easy, so that he despised illusion, and weatherworking, and even healing, because they held no fear, no challenge to him. He saw no virtue in himself for his mastery of them. So, after the Archmage Nemmerle had given him his name, the boy set his will on the great and dangerous art of summoning. And he studied with the Master of that art for a long time.."It's up to me too if he stays or goes, and he goes. You haven't got all the sayso. All the people.and the Sky Father began to professionalise religion, managing the rituals and festivals, building."Maybe our hope is there," said the Namer..young men. Secret meetings, inner circles. He never praised.By now the place that the girl had pointed out to me was deserted. After this incident I."Free!" said the tall woman, and her voice cracked like a whip. Then she looked at her companions,.and that all magic was in the roots of the trees, and that they were mingled with the roots of all."Come with me to the Grove," she said..They are five against us," said the Herbal.."Hmn," Hound went, a short, grunting laugh. "You find what you look for, don't you? Like me." He saw that his companion was in distress, and said, "I'll get you out of here. Fetch a carter from the village down there, when I've got my breath. Listen. Don't fret. I haven't hunted you all these years to give you to Early. The way I gave you to Gelluk. I was sorry for that. I thought about it. What I said to you about men of a craft sticking together. And who we work for. Couldn't see that I had much choice about that. But having done you a disfavor, I thought if I came across you again I'd do you a favor, if I could. As one finder to the other, see?". "You're going to Roke to find out," he said, raising his glass to her.
